Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Emerson U.S. Patent 5,074,263. Claim 1 reads on Emerson as cited below.

1. (original) Methods for charging at least one combustion chamber of a spark-ignition combustion engine with fuel and air (abstract), at least one combustion chamber charge being produced during a shutoff phase of the internal-combustion engine (column 5 line 1-5), and being ignited when the internal-combustion engine is subsequently started, wherein, during the shutoff phase, at least one measure is taken to produce a high percentage of fuel vapor in the combustion chamber charge (column 7, line 37-46).

10. (currently amended) A control unit for controlling the charging at least one combustion chamber of a spark-ignition combustion engine with fuel and air, at least one combustion chamber charge being produced during a shutoff phase of the internal-combustion engine and being ignited when the internal-combustion engine is subsequently started, wherein the control unit controls at least one of the methods as recited in Claim 1 (abstract).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 4, 5, 8, and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Emerson in view of Brueggen et al. U. S. Patent 6,718,928. To the extent that Emerson does not expressly teach a metering of fuel in a power (work) stroke or a compression stroke, a valve delay, a compression increase when engine off or a compression decrease following start Brueggen teaches these limitations for the purpose of starting an engine without an electric starter (abstract; column 1 line 63 - column 2 line 4; column 2 line 27-33; column 2 line 61 - 67; column 3 line 29 - 38, column 4, line 66 - column 5 line 7).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2, 3, 6 and 7 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
